Risk Vs. Reward

Traditionally, Safety Professionals determine if the risk presented by a hazard/activity is tolerable or intolerable and worth the reward. Workers, generally, think of the reward first then they may or may not consider the risk. What is the difference between risk versus reward and reward versus risk? Read More...

Safety Topics Other Than COVID-19

Is it possible to focus too much on one part of our worker safety efforts and put less emphasis on other elements of keeping our workers safe? For example, with all of the focus on the recently released OSHA ETS for COVID-19 and the subsequent court filings and stays issued, we can lose focus on many other topics that also affect the day-to-day activities of our workers where they could be injured or killed. Let's look at winter driving...portable kerosene heater...and... seasonal flu. Read More!

2021 Open-Enrollment Training Schedule
