Attitude is Important!

Negative attitudes about safety can have dangerous consequences at work for the worker and their coworkers. It is important to identify negative attitudes that you may have and what is causing them then working to change the negative attitude about safety to a more positive attitude about safety.

Attitude is how a person thinks and feels about a situation. It is the perspective with which a person views a situation. Attitude drives how a person will react to a situation

There are some negative attitudes to be aware of in ourselves and in our coworkers. These negative attitudes are...
